EI Vendor	Healthcare disparity still exists overall for families to get information on and access regional center services.
EI Vendor	Families need more information about typical development milestones, so they can be aware of non-typical development and delays. How can we get that information to families?
EI Vendor	The lack of use the internet is a big disadvantage for our families, Parents place is helping them. One family at the time
EI Vendor	grassroot outreach by regional center staff who represent the community and speak the language - Spanish speaking, we tend to access resources a little bit differently, everything is out there but sometimes it takes a little bit more to take the initiative to reach out. what I've seen with other agencies, just make yourselves more available. knowing who to talk to... like connect a person to reach out to or someone that can network me into regional center. to see collaboration with other community members, campaigning may help because it makes it friendly more user friendly and learn how regional center can help child and yourself.
EI Vendor	Community services that are offered - maybe we can put something in the City Newsletter that goes all to the homes with regional center services.
